Tensabarrier® is the name & registered trademark for the world's first & original retractable belt queue management system.

The full range of posts, webbing, beams, bases, fixings & accessories forms the most comprehensive choice anywhere in the world.

Tensator's skilled engineers specialising in electronic, architectural & conceptual design can prototype & manufacture to your specific requirements. From initial brief, through to sophisticated graphic presentations using simulation software, to product design & manufacture.

Exclusively available from Tensator & our partners.

For over 30 years, Tensabarrier® has been the world's leading retractable belt system for queue management. & while others may try to copy our designs & innovations, no one duplicates the quality & attention to detail that is apparent in every Tensabarrier® system.

Need more proof? It begins with our exclusive cassette design:

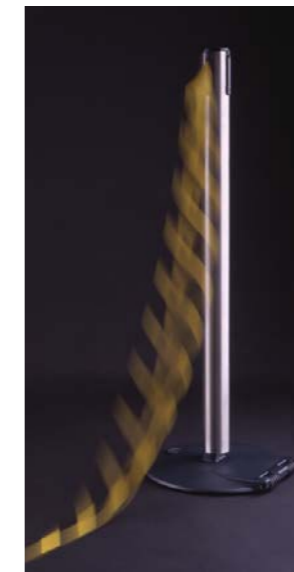

Only Tensabarrier® features the patented Tensator centrifugal braking system with anti-tamper locking tape ends:

Slow retract technology allows the belt to fall to the floor upon release & then slowly & safely retract back into the post.
